

British Senate AGM
Warwickshire Weekend
a Medieval Medley

September 2018
Friday 28th—Sunday 30th
Ettington Park Hotel
Stratford-upon Avon
Warwickshire

Come and have a fling!

The British Senate AGM Weekend will be based at the Ettington Park Hotel, just outside Stratford-upon-Avon in the leafy county of Warwickshire.

Our base for the weekend is a magnificent Victorian Gothic wonderland, with facilities from all ages—ruined chapel to heated indoor swimming pool, and glorious grounds.

On arrival on Friday evening we will have an informal and flexible supper, plenty of time to catch up with friends old and new and explore the hotel.

On Saturday we shall be whisked to the one of the finest and most complete medieval experiences in the country—Warwick Castle . From its origins as a seat of power and home of the kingmaker, through to an opulent family home. Siege engines , dungeons , towers turrets and lunch.

To continue the excitement you will be wafted back to the hotel for the AGM or, if you prefer, to relax in your room or the pool before the black tie dinner in the imposing country house atmosphere.

On Sunday morning there are plenty of options North and South from gardens to still more castles. For those who wish we will organise an informal visit to Kenilworth Castle, a magnificent ruin with a fine Elizabethan garden, followed by lunch at a well known local hostelry. (This is a pay as you go option.)
